

Butterfly

Butterflies are beautiful, and each of them are unique.

The butterfly reminds us that each of us possess our own unique qualities.

Butterflies are also known for metamorphosing from their caterpillar stage, which is a lesson that change is inevitable and often transforms us for the better.

Copyright © 2020 Chelsea Brown
GoodSeedsYoga.com

Lion

Lions are a symbol of royalty.

The often represent leadership, strength, and having pride in yourself.

Lions hunt in teams, so it is important to remember that even if you are a leader in your group, you can benefit from others' help.

Copyright © 2020 Chelsea Brown
GoodSeedsYoga.com

Hawk

Hawks, like most birds, symbolize connection between the earth and the heavens.

From high above, they can clearly see for many miles.

Hawks remind us to look for the broad view and trust our own vision.

Copyright © 2020 Chelsea Brown
GoodSeedsYoga.com

Elk

Elk are a symbol of grace and integrity.

Elk travel incredibly long distances, so they learn to pace themselves.

They are herd animals who work for the benefit of their entire community.

Elk reminds us to know what and who we stand for.

Copyright © 2020 Chelsea Brown
GoodSeedsYoga.com